

THE UNITARY METHOD

The unitary method involves finding the value of one unit, for example 1%, then using this information to answer the question.

The unitary method can be used to find the GST included in the price of an item or the pre-tax price.